

A Good Start

By Anton du Preez, Financial advisor, Meadow Group

The beginning of the year always feels like the best time to start doing things differently and for the better. Now is YOUR time to act on your new year's resolutions.

Making positive changes can be as simple as changing your friends, the places you find yourself after work or weekends, the food you consume etc.

The same principle applies to how you tackle your financial situation. Money is certainly not number one, but it does affect one's life to a large extent and has a bearing on most things which are of importance to you.

Drawing up a clear, simple and realistic budget can certainly show you where you spend most of your money. In its most basic form, it shows you how much money is coming in and how much is going out. Do you spend more than you earn? Then perhaps it is time to cut out the unnecessary expenditures.

This is an excellent way to understand money and the lifestyle you are living on a daily basis.

Another aspect of great importance is drawing up a Will. I always say to my clients that in life nothing is guaranteed, except for death, taxes and uncertainty. We are here to provide you with great peace of mind and making the best from a guaranteed scenario.

We at Meadow Group believe in creating a sound business relationship with each one of our clients.

We want to improve your life for the better.

There are various ways in which we can add value to your life, but it always has a beginning. Remember the saying: "if you continue doing things you've done, you continue getting what you have" and "when in doubt, get out". Till next time.
